

TABLE 13.4
Variable Consciousnesses In Mind-Door Cognitive Process

Life-continuum (Bhavaṅga)	Mind-door adverting (Manodvāraṅjana)	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Impulsion (Javana) ¹	Registration ² (Tadārammaṇa)	Registration ² (Tadārammaṇa)
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11

- 1 The number of impulsions may vary. There are usually seven impulsions, but jhāna can have more and particularly weak objects can have fewer.
- 2 Registration consciousnesses do not arise in all mind-door processes. They cannot arise when the object is a concept; they occur only with vivid sense-sphere objects. Thus, they are not a part of jhāna cognitive processes, and they do not accompany states, such as loving-kindness, that depend on the concept of “beings.”